In one of the last traditional tribes in the South Pacific, a young girl Wawa falls in love with her chief's grandson Dain. When an inter-tribal war escalates, Wawa is unknowingly betrothed as part of a peace deal. The young lovers run away, but are pursued by enemy warriors intent on killing them. They must choose between their hearts and the future of the tribe, while the villagers must wrestle with preserving their traditional culture and adapting it to the increasing outside demands for individual freedom.

Tanna is based on a true story and performed by the people of Yakel in Vanuatu.

This is a book about a dream and the passion that made it come true. Sailing away for bizarre adventures, fantastic moments and challenging struggles, you will learn what a life at sea has taught a certified dreamer. No ordinary sailing book, this also presents a recipe for following your dreams and the idea that if you do, you will save the world! Learn what life looks like from the deck of a schooner, by someone who got away. Discover an outlook based on the faith that dreams do come true, and a hopeful portrayal that our collective dreams will soon become a reality.
