Previously published in Indonesian, the book is a response to Dr. Oei Hong Dijien's (OHD) museum scandal, in which many of his collected works of Indonesian maestros were suspected to be forgeries. The book targets art collectors, and contains essays by art collectors, curators, academics, and political representatives, as well as investigations into the practice of forgery and outlines how the organised business works.

"This is a book that I've been working on for quite a long time that is filled with collection of photos I took while I was exploring South America since 2016.

Although the plan was delayed because I was busy traveling, perhaps now is the best time to release them, when I finally hit 77 years of age.

Often times, we don't always know when the right time is.

So, I present to you Ruta 77."

OSCT Indonesia is a company established in 2011 by Bayu Satya based on his concern about oil spill disasters in the seas. Before that, this entrepreneur from Palembang, South Sumatra, had been involved for decades in the world of manufacturing oil spill response equipment with the brand Slickbar Indonesia. The idea for establishing OSCT Indonesia was motivated by the reality that many companies are not able to buy, store, and operate oil spill response equipment in their operational headquarters. Even though, the risk of oil spill disasters is always lurking when not expected.

An oil spill disaster in the seas creates a chain of terrible impacts that are so destructive. The environment is damaged, marine life is exposed to poisonous chemicals, and human health is also threatened because the fish have been contaminated with dangerous poisons. OSCT Indonesia in the period of almost a decade since it was established has undertaken a series of brilliant achievements in saving the seas from fierce oil spills. Their reputation in Indonesia and abroad can make everyone proud.

This book is an interesting record which is brief yet complete about how this concern was born in Bayu Satya, how he began the struggle to build this industry in Indonesia, how he then has played many roles in the international scene, as well as all the twists and turns of this field.

Poetry is the expression of maximum meaning with a minimum of words. It is a way of communicating one's true deeper feelings about an issue, which is best expressed—easily, flawlessly and genuinely—in the very midst of these feelings, and serves as a cathartic release of their underlying emotions. This book is a collection of poems that express my feelings and thoughts relating to my social, cultural, political, religious and medical educational-cum-professional environments; and of my expectations for the future. It also contains a number of poems from four contributor poets. It is divided into eight chapters according to themes under which the poems are arranged. The first seven chapters consist of poems on the following: Society; Eulogy and Appreciation; Love and Relationship; Poetry in Mandinka; Politics and Governance; Medical; and Religion and Spirituality. Chapter eight consists of poems from four contributors—two of whom are budding poets. Poetry in Mandinka are poems written in the Mandinka language. Mandinka is a native Gambian language, and is widely spoken across the West African region. Each of the Mandinka poems is followed by a prose translation of it in English. For some of the poems, most especially the political ones, the context in which they were written is given as footnotes. Where a poem is the result of collaborative poetry, the co-author is acknowledged at the end of the poem.
