[The Ballad of Pemi Tshewang Tashi is a virile translation into English of one of the most popular Bhutanese lozey. In this heroic tale, the Chamberlain of the title recites how he has been ordered to lead a detachment to attack a foe of his master, although his own heart is not in the quarrel. He sets off with a premonition of disaster, but puts loyalty to his lord above personal presentiments. he reflects with wistfulness and passion on the landscape and persons he is leaving behind. After the battle, he is cornered and trapped by forces of his adversary at the formidable cliff at Thomangdrak near Tongsa.]
