A follow-up to Alice Guillermo's landmark book Social Realism in the Philippines, which was first published in 1987, this book by Amadis Ma. Guerrero extends the coverage from the first generation of Filipino social realist artists who were active during the Martial Law period in the 70s and 80s to include other artists who pursued the same advocacies through their art.

This book includes writings on the lives and works of Nunelucio Alvarado, Demetrio de la Cruz, Antipas Delotavo, Neil Doloricon, Imelda Cajipe-Endaya, Edgar Talusan Fernandez, Karen Flores, Renato Habulan, Jose Tence Ruiz, and Pablo Baen Santos.

Dreamscapes: The Art of Perfecto Mercado is an art-biographical book on Tarlac artist Perfecto Mercado (1950-2011). It is art history focused on a regional artist and his art. The book chronicles his pivotal life moments in relation to his art production and aims to show the beauty of his struggles as an artist and family man. Unschooled in art but full of passion, Mercado proved to himself his capacities to produce original pieces of art the quality of which can match the world's best. The book of seven chapters and images of his art is a lesson on good values that will inspire the everyday man and more especially the struggling artist.

Filipino food is the summary of Filipino history—from the indigenous food of the prehistoric era, to the influences of Asian cooking generated by trade, and the Colonial influences brought on by conquest. Yet for all its richness and diversity, little is known beyond dishes like adobo, sinigang, lechon. Kain Na! aims to change that.

The first illustrated tome of its kind contains essential information on Philippine food and eating habits. Káin Ná! (which means “let’s eat!”) is a warm invitation to the country’s communal dining table and into its regional kitchens.

It is divided into 12 chapters, Almusál (breakfast), Lútonġ Báhay (home cooking), Meryénda (afternoon delights), Lútonġ Kalsáda (street food), Paghimáġas (desserts), Pulútan (bar chow), Pang-Pistá (festival food), Inúmin (beverages), Sa Panaderyá (bakery finds), Kakanín (rice treats), Sawsáwan (dipping sauces), and a section on ingredients key to the Filipino larder.

Peacebuilding and Sustainable Human Development: The Pursuit of the Bangsamoro Right to Self-Determination / Ayesah Uy Abubakar (Series
Ed) Hans Gunter Brauch

Sabah, Malaysia: Penerbit UMS, 2019

ISSN: 2367-4024 ; 9783319533865

The Anthropocene: Politik-Economics-Society-Science, Volume 16

$ 40.00 / PB

310gm.

This book presents the protracted right to self-determination conflict between the Philippine state and the Bangsamoro group in Mindanao, Philippines. In the five decades of attempts to achieve peace, a key element is the Bangsamoros' search for a kind of development that is compatible with their aspirations for freedom and their future. This book presents a study of the Bangsamoro communities and their social constructions of conflict, peace and development. It examines the viability of the sustainable human development framework for application in their challenging realities. The usefulness of the sustainable human development framework lies not only in its use of human development parameters like the Human Development Index. It also provides an approach towards development that synergizes with the sustainable peace framework - an imperative for Mindanao. At the centre of this approach is the Participatory Rural Appraisal and Participatory Learning and Action methodology for eliciting responses, stimulating discussion, documenting verbal and non-verbal ideas and carrying out small-scale projects to demonstrate community participation. The book concludes with two main points: that (a) both sustainable human development and peacebuilding are mutually reinforcing frameworks aimed at achieving the same human development goals, and (b) the pursuit of the right to self-determination is enhanced, as both frameworks are combined to provide a context for the attainment of peace in Mindanao.
