The Dust of the Road : A Translation of Gard-e-Raah / Akhtar Husain Raipuri

Karachi : Oxford University Press, 2007

xxviii, 271 p. ; 24 cm.

978-0-19-547215-8

$ 20.00

[The Dust of the Road its wonderfully mature and sophisticated flavour. Happily for the book, Dr Raipuri happened to be present in various world cities when momentous events were taking place. He was, for example, in Calcutta when the city was the hub of intellectual and political activity in India; in Paris when France faced the German invasion during the Second World War; and in Karachi at the time of Partition, in 1947, when the city was poised for a metamorphosis as a flood of refugees found sanctuary there.

The entire book is imbued with the spirit of the man-brave, ambitious, and appreciative of the best things of life. It is a truly fascinating book and a work of art which has been deemed one of the finest Urdu memoirs to date.]

In Quest of Jinnah : Diary, Notes, and Correspondence of Hector Bolitho / Edited by Sharif al Mujahid

Karachi : Oxford University Press, c2007

xxxii, 221 p. ; 22 cm.

Includes Index.

978-0-19-597901-5

$ 16.50

[This book is a compilation of previously unpublished and expunged portions of Jinnah: Creator of Pakistan by Hector Bolitho, the first biography of the Quaid-I-Azam. Mohammad Ali Jinnah, and Bolitho's own diary and notes, and correspondence with functionaries of the Government of Pakistan and highly placed individuals in Britain, India and Pakistan who had known Jinnah personally. The book also includes the English and American reviews of Bolitho's celebrated and influential biography. The volume is a treasure trove of oral history concerning Pakistan's founding father. Bolitho's interviews with people who had known Jinnah personally in various capacities, and at various stages of his life, recorded within four to five years of his death, have preserved for posterity a good deal of information and historically important material that would have otherwise been lost for ever.]

Historic Battlefields of Pakistan / Johnny Torrens-Spence

2nd Impression (1st ed. 2006)

Karachi : Oxford University Press, c2007

xiv, 140 p. ; 23 cm.

Includes Bibliography and Index.

978-0-19-597897-1

$ 18.00

[This book brings to light eighteen different historic battlefields that lie in modern Pakistan, ranging from ancient times to the late Nineteenth Century. These battles have left an indelible mark on the culture and history of the people of the region, and in many cases, on the landscape itself. They include some of the greatest military commanders of all time, such as Alexander the Great, Genghiz Khan, Mahmud Ghaznavi, Ranjit Singh, Sir Charles Nepier and Lord Gough, as well as a host of less well known but no less colourful characters.]

Diaries of Field Marshal Mohammad Ayub Khan : 1966-1972 / Edited by Craig Baxter

3rd Impression (1st ed. 2007)

599 p. ; ill. ; 25 cm.

Includes Bibliography and Index.

978-0-19-547442-8

$ 26.50

[The book offers authentic material for scholars, academics, students and the general reader interested in Pakistan's political history, and will be of special interest to those who lived through those difficult times. The diaries also shed new light on Field Marshal Mohammad Ayub Khan's views on a variety of issues directly connected with Pakistan's political, social and economic development, as well as his personal perspective on important subjects.]

Allama Muhammad Iqbal (Poet, Philosopher, Statesman and reformers) – Part- I /
Ziauddin Ahmad

Lahore : Bazm-I-Iqbal, Nursinghdas Gardens, 2006

108 p. : ill. ; 22 cm

$ 10.00

My fellow traveller : a translation of Humsafar / Hameeda Akhtar Husain Raipuri
2nd Impression (1st edition on 2006)
Karachi : Oxford University Press, 2007
xxviii, 384 p. : ill. ; 22 cm
978-0-19-547147-2
$ 16.50

[These memoirs describes the author's life experiences, insights and interaction with friends and family, and infact, complement the memoirs of Akhtar Husain Raipuri, the noted Urdu critic and short story writer. Hameeda Raipuri also provides luminous vignettes of other prominent people such as her father Zafar Omar, a popular Urdu novelist of his day, Sarojini Naidu, M.K.Gandhi, and Maulvi Abdul Haq. Her Description of the Latter, capturing his unguarded moments when he was not being the great scholar that the world knew him to be, is a valuable addition to the body of biographical writing about Maulvi Abdul Haq, and adds depth to available linear portrayals.]

-----
A critical survey of the development of the Urdu novel and short story / Shaista Akhtar Banu Suhrawardy
Karachi : Oxford University Press, c2006
xxiv, 250 p. ; 22 cm
Includes Index
978-0-19-547250-9
$ 16.50

[The book then broadens its scope to investigate, with equally thorough research and scholarship, the development of the short story in India between 1900-1925, focusing in particular on the works of Prem Chand and his followers and concludes with the prediction of a brilliant future for both genres. Throughout the work the reader is able to identify Shaists Suhrawardy Ikramullah's enthusiasm and excitement and the delight with which she undertook the study. There are generous resumes of stories of special note and in-depth studies of many of the characters.]

$ 7.00

[Among the money matters of Nepal, coins issued during 1911 to 1955 CD (king Tribhuvan Bir Bikram Shah Deva) are considered to be one of the interesting outcomes in numismatic history of Nepal partly because of the decimalization of Nepalese money; partly because of the introduction and use of denominational inscriptions on the coins; partly because of the introduction of several new designs (modifying and or quitting the older ones); partly because of re-introduction of Nepal

Government inscriptions; partly because of incorporation of several new metals like brass, cupro-nickels etc. in lieu and in addition to the traditional metals like copper, silver, gold etc. and partly because of the introduction of paper money also. This period is also quite significant as the paper money was introduced for the first time in Nepalese money matters.

[From Preface : Hanoi-Hue-Saigon are the three typical cities of Vietnam in the early years of the 20th century, each has its own historical depth but they still connect with the rise and fall of the history of Vietnamese nation.

Hanoi-Hue-Saigon in the early of the 20th century, the collection of images of the three cities this time, illustrates the changes in these representative cities in the three regions in Vietnam. It features the preservation of the traditional traits of Hanoi associated with the history, the ancient traits of Hue from the past dynasty and the new traits of Saigon on the way to become a modern city.]

Hong Kong is at the heart of modern China's position as a regional--and potential world--superpower. In this important and original history of the region, Steve Tsang argues that its current prosperity is a direct by-product of the British administrators who ran the place as a colony before the handover in 1997. The British administration of Hong Kong uniquely derived its practices from the best traditions of Imperial Chinese government and its philosophical, Confucian basis. It stressed efficiency, honesty, fairness, benevolent paternalism and individual freedom. The result was a hugely successful colony, especially in industry and finance, and it remains so today with its new status of Special Administrative Region of the People's Republic of China. This definitive history of the colorful individuals who administered the colony on behalf of the British government sheds light on two empires inextricably linked in nature and philosophy of government

Many people were not optimistic about the 'One Country, two Systems' Formula. How should Hong Kong be judged as a Special Administrative Region within China in the first decade of its existence?

This book has set out to answer this question. Renowned scholars from outside Hong Kong, largely from countries with close links to Hong Kong's handover or other links, have addressed this question from their perspectives.

Based on solid research, this book describes how Western Economics, combining ideas and research techniques, was introduced into China. It identifies the Chinese who studied Economics in the West and evaluates their roles in teaching, research, and publications in China. In particular, it describes and examines the activities of well-known figures such as Fang Xianting, Kang Youwei, Li Choh-ming, Liang Qichao, Sun Yat-Sen, Wu Baosan, Wu Jingchao and Yan Fu in transmitting and interpreting Western Economics. The evolution of Economics programmes in leading universities in China is also discussed.
