A Road Side Saga / Aruna Shantha Nissanka
Nugegoda, Sri Lanka: Sanghinda Printers & Publishers, 2010
189p. ; 21cm.
ISBN-13: 9789550101788
$ 15.00

The reader of the novel 'A Road Side Saga' might think that the events described in it are impossible and hence are fantasies, but when similar events realistically take place, as it happened, for example, in Sri Lanka in the late 1980's, the reader would still think that it is impossible. The reader or the observer thus oscillates between the reality and the fantasy. Fantasies are realities and realities are fantasies. The novel 'A Road-Side Saga' beautifully intersects the reality and fantasy.

162p. ; 23cm.

ISBN-13: 9789715426428

1. Philippine fiction (English)

$ 15.00

In Below the Crying Mountain the Moro rebellion that broke out in Sulu in the 1970s and that continues to wound the nation is seen vividly through the lives of the mestiza Rosy Wright, the Tausug girl Nahla, the rebel leader Prof. Hassan, the soldier Capt. Rodolfo as well as in the quest of the book's narrator. The personal is political as war fuels the clash of emotions, histories, and cultures.

Sri Lanka: Masterpiece Publishers, 2010

iv. 187p. ; 21cm.

ISBN-13: 9789555236416

$ 18.00

“Aravinda Perera takes us completely into a world of fantasy in which we find ourselves so deeply involved that we seem to lose contact with the real world and end up identifying ourselves with its characters and actions. It is an experience by itself, a journey into a world at the turn of the 15th century, a world of kings and tyrants, dragons and lions, superpowers and fiery blades – a thrilling experience which will certainly appeal to the mind of the young reader.

Poseidon's Wrath / Lucky de Chickera
Dehiwala, Sri Lanka: Lakshman de Chickera, 2010
310p. ; 21cm.
ISBN-13: 9789555236119
$ 22.00

Poseidon's Wrath is a story of a fisher family that was devastated by the ire of the "Sea God" who brought about catastrophic events on their community living in the hinterland of Hikkaduwa, and destroyed their oneness, in the Tsunami of Dec 2004. It tells of the Human Clarion that fish in such troubled waters at the expense of traumatized lives, the International drug dealers and flesh traders who capitalize on human tragedies, and the woefully inadequate Official Machinery that endeavours to combat well drilled Mafia Operations, that thrive on the miseries of others.

The Tale of Khun Chang Khun Phaen is the most outstanding classic in the Thai language. The plot is a love story, set against a background of war, ending in high tragedy. This folk epic was first developed in oral form for popular performance with a fast-paced blend of romance, tragedy, and farce spiced with sex, warring, adventure, and the supernatural. It was later adopted by the Siamese court and written down, with two kings contributing. This first-ever translation is based on Prince Damrong's standard edition of 1917–18, with over a hundred passages recovered from earlier versions.

This English translation is written in lively prose, fully annotated, with over four hundred original line drawings and an essay on the history and background of the tale. The main volume presents the entire tale in translation. The companion volume contains alternative chapters and extensions, Prince Damrong's prefaces, and reference lists of flora, fauna, costume, arms, and food. The volumes are available separately or as a slipcased set.

According to the leading Thai linguist William Gedney, "if all other information on traditional Thai culture were to be lost, the whole complex could be reconstructed from this marvellous text."

Miss Seetoh in the World / Catherine Lim
Singapore: Marshall Cavendish Editions, 2011
487p. ; 20cm.
ISBN-13: 9789814328364
1. Singapore fiction (English)
$ 21.00

Miss Maria Seetoh, a teacher of English and Literature in St. Peter's Secondary School in Singapore, sees herself as a 'simple soul who only wants to be a good and happy person', and has a dream to write stories about 'simple, ordinary people going about their daily lives'. However, God/Providence/Fate/Chance, etc. decrees otherwise. She is thrown into the tumult of a disastrous marriage that begins as strangely as it ends, a failed love affair that 'hollows her out', and a controversial teaching career that ends with her abrupt resignation. Most of all, she is caught in a political event as shocking in its causes as in its consequences.
