DRAFTING TRUSTS AND WILL TRUSTS IN SINGAPORE : A MODERN APPROACH
(2ND EDITION) /

Sweet and Maxwell Asia, Singapore 2015

1v.

9789810957803

$ 295.00 / HB

This book is an invaluable reference for any serious practitioner needing information in the drafting of Singapore wills and trusts. It is a drafter's handbook which illustrates the modern style of drafting found in other jurisdictions that can be beneficially used in Singapore. It enables the local practitioner to draft trust documentation with Singapore resident trustees under Singapore law that is accepted internationally by his peers.

There is excellent material covering diverse subjects such as the reservation by the settlor of the powers of investments, the office of protectors in trusts and private trust companies, which topics are not found in any conventional books on trusts.

The aim of this work is to aid the drafter by discussing all the issues which arise in drafting settlements and will trusts, and to provide precedents accompanied with an explanation of the clauses contained in them and the choices that have to be made

Criminal Law in Malaysia and Singapore (Revised 2nd Edition) / Stanley Yeo, Neil Morgan and Chan Wing Cheong

LexisNexis, Singapore 2015

9789814608510

$ 145.00 / PB

This is a revised version by the authors to the existing content which critically evaluates the general principles of criminal responsibility in Malaysia and Singapore. This book is essential for legal practitioners, judges, scholars and students. The detailed analysis of the principles, workings, and complexities of criminal law in each chapter is done in an organised and structured manner, with clear headings and sub-headings that make it easy for referencing and review. A comprehensive analysis on major cases, academic commentary and law reform perspectives on criminal law clearly makes the book an authoritative text referred to in legal proceedings, judgments and scholarly journals.

This is a definitive source of comparative law for lawmakers and scholars in other jurisdictions, where the Indian Penal Code forms part of the law, as it features helpful and insightful discussions of how Malaysian and Singaporean judges have interpreted and applied the Code provisions.

Human Resource Practitioners' Guide to Industrial Relations / Arthur Khong
LexisNexis, Singapore 2015

9789814608268

$ 60.00 / PB

Industrial Relations is commonly defined as the relationship between the management of a company and the trade union representing the workers. As such, not every HR practitioner has the opportunity to grasp the complicated, often emotive, area of industrial relations as it is only applicable to unionized companies.

The first edition of this book originates from the other title of this series, Human Resource Practitioners' Guide to Employment Laws. It serves to outline the Employment and Industrial Relations in Singapore, to have a better understanding of the rights and obligations of both employers and employees especially in unionised companies.

This book is a valuable resource for those who want to learn more about Employment and Industrial Relations in Singapore.

Malayan Cases - 4 Vol.set /

Lexis Nexis, Malaysia 2015

1v.

9789674003746

$ 390.00 / HB

The Malayan Cases form a valuable series of case reports from 1904 to 1975 which are both insightful and instructive. These cases remain authoritative today as it is instrumental to the development of law of the nation. It is intended to fill up the interstices in the fabric of the judicial precedents and allow users to appreciate the expansion and progress of the law whilst absorbing the historical value of judgments thus meeting the needs of the judiciary, practitioners and academicians.

The Malayan Cases containing cases from both Malaya and Singapore are now revived with a new look and feel. The resumption of the Malayan Cases endorses the longstanding LexisNexis tradition of case reporting at the highest of standards.

'Law reports are the raw material of future adjudication and the person who places the precedents before the profession is a public servant of the first importance, even if this is not publicly realized'.

~Bashir A Mallal

Sarawak Law Series - Land Code (with Annotations) / The Sarawak State Attorney-General's Chamber

Lexis Nexis, Malaysia 2015

9789674003449

$ 80.00 / PB

The Sarawak Land Code is a unique piece of legislation, reflecting the historical development of the State's land administration system since the arrival of the first Rajah in 1841 and the customs and traditional way of life of its multi-ethnic communities, but incorporating provisions which had facilitated the rapid social and economic changes and progress enjoyed by the State since 1 January, 1958 when this law came into force.

Enacted during the colonial Administration, the Land Code had undergone multiple amendments but no revision yet under the Revision of Laws Ordinance, 1993. The last official version by the Government printer was released in 1999 and republished by the State Attorney-General's Chambers in 2003. This publication of the Land Code (with annotations), which incorporates all amendments up to 1 January, 2015, will enable all legal practitioners, land administrators and others whose work involved dealing with land and the application of the Land Code, to have a better understanding of the land administration system and the laws relating to land in Sarawak. The annotations are prepared by legal officers from the State Attorney-General's Chambers led by State Legal Counsel, Datuk JC Fong.
