Cambodia : Derisking Renewable Energy Investment : Selecting Public Instruments to Support Solar Photovoltaic Energy Investment in Cambodia / Johannes Spaleck (et al.)

UNDP Cambodia, Phnom Penh, Cambodia 2019

1v.

Includes 2 Booklets

$ 75.00 / null

720 gm.

The objective of this report is to analyze the most cost-effective public derisking measures to support private sector investment in on-grid and off-grid solar photovoltaic (PV) energy in Cambodia.

Taking a comprehensive approach, the report analysis four different solar PV sub-sectors:

on-grid: (i) utility-scale PV and (ii) rooftop PV; off-grid: (iii) solar-battery mini-grids (solar-battery MG) and (iv) solar home systems (SHS).

The report presents the results from a quantitative and investment-risk informed modelling analysis. Modelling data has been obtained from the recent literature and structured interviews with private sector investors and developers. This report was prepared in collaboration with the National Council for Sustainable Development (NCSA) of Cambodia, reviewed by the Ministry of Mines and Energy (MME), and Ministry of Economy and Finance (MEF).

Report on Labour Force Survey 2017 / General Statistical Office

Statistical Publishing House, Hanoi, Vietnam 2019

1v.

9786047512461

$ 55.00 / null

642 gm.

The purpose of the survey was to collect information on the labour force market participation in 2017 for those persons aged 15 and above, currently residing in Vietnam, regarded as a basis for intergrating, compiling national indicators on labour, employment, unemployment and income. As the results, this would support all branches and levels evaluating and comparing the changes in labour market among quarters in the year of survey, as well as with the previous labour force surveys conducted by GSO; and also developing, making policies on human resource development and planning on investment, production and business accordance with the development trend of labour market. With the technical support of International Labour Organization (ILO), the 2017 survey has applied recommendations of ILO on labour and employment, as the basic for study and complete survey content of next year.

Includes Bibliography

$ 50.00 / null

As Cambodia continues its transition to a higher level of development, it faces a historic opportunity to manage its natural resources for the benefit of both people and the environment. Cambodia can mitigate mounting pressure on forests and other essential natural resources by diversifying patterns of access and use, while building the foundation for an economy that continues to be strong and fair, and, crucially, more sustainable.

The Population and Housing Census is one of three national statistical censuses as stipulated in the Statistics Law. The Census sought to collect basic population and housing information across the entire Socialist Republic of Viet Nam to serve national socio-economic development policies and to monitor the implementation of Sustainable Development Goals per the Government of Viet Nam's commitment. The 2019 Population and Housing Census was implemented in the context of a vigorous fourth technological revolution, and applied information technology in all stages of the Census for the first time. Three types of information collection were used synchronously: an online survey form, a mobile-friendly electronic form and a traditional paper-based form. The implementation of the Census was successful, including the effective application of IT during data collection that helped improve the quality of the data and the transparency of the analysis process, ultimately shortening the time it took to publish the results of the Census. The success of the 2019 Census was primarily attributed to the close attention and direction of the Government, Party Committees and authorities at all levels.

The SPPF is developed to achieve the goals set forth in the National Strategic Development Plan and the Rectangular Strategy Phase III of the Royal Government, which seek "to continue to develop and to strengthen the social protection system with concentration, consistency and effectiveness". This strategic document reflects the reality of the social protection system development in Cambodia, identifies important challenges that the country is facing, and defines strategic goals and plans to be implemented in the short, medium and long term. Experiences from other countries, especially the neighboring ones, are taken into consideration to identify good practices and gaps.

National Strategic Plan of Identification 2017-2026 : "Guide acceleration efforts to increase birth registration rate and identification in Cambodia" /
General Department of Identification, Phnom Penh, Cambodia 2016

1v.
$ 45.00 / null

The National Strategic Plan aims to achieve a long-term vision for Cambodia — that every person has a legal identity. This will require building a modern, permanent, universal civil registration system (CRVS) that will generate reliable vital statistics and an integrated population identification system (IPIS). Building these systems will eliminate the necessity to develop parallel systems for population identification, thus ensuring the efficient use of resources. Cambodia is currently looking to revise their legislation related to CRVS and would welcome advice on this matter.
