Skin-lightening is currently one of the most common forms of potentially harmful body modification practices in the world and African women are among some of the most widely represented users of skin-lightening products. The overall objective of this book is to provide up-to-date evidence-based recommendations for reducing the global burden of cosmetic skin bleaching and preventing injuries related to skin bleaching in sub-Saharan Africa and Africans in diaspora.

The book aims to: offer an appraisal of all relevant literature on cosmetic bleaching practices to-date, focusing on any key developments; identify and address important medical, public health issues as well as historical, genetic, psychosocial, cultural, behavioural, socioeconomic, political, institutional and environmental determinants; provide guideline recommendations that would help attenuate the burden and possibly eliminate the injuries related to skin bleaching; discuss potential developments and future directions.

Culture Pacifique

1. Ankave (peuple de Papouasie-Nouvelle-Guinée) -- Moeurs et coutumes.

2. Ankave (peuple de Papouasie-Nouvelle-Guinée) -- Rites et cérémonies.

Résultat de longues recherches ethnographiques, cet ouvrage permet de montrer dans sa complexité la vie actuelle d'un des peuples papous d'une vallée de l'intérieur de la Nouvelle-Guinée. Ce peuple vit un quotidien d'activités et de techniques traditionnelles, habite un univers social de relations particulières et complexes et enfin s'exprime dans un monde largement habité par la magie, l'interdiction, la crainte de l'invisible et les manières de traiter avec lui. Le texte (bilingue) est d'une lecture fluide. Il est plus explicatif que littéraire et donne une sorte de vision panoramique de la société Agra et de son fonctionnement, excluant de manière volontaire tout ce qui pourrait paraître commentaire racoleur du regard occidental (celui de l'ethnologue) sur une société primitive. Il rejette assez vivement certains documentaires existants qui ont donné une image fautive de ces populations ou parfois même ont fabriqué de toute pièce un modèle quasiment préhistorique de "monde premier". Les photographies qui composent la plus grande partie de l'ouvrage sont absolument magnifiques et créent un rapport privilégié, presque envoutant avec cette société. Elles sont accompagnées de commentaires pertinents et suffisamment explicatifs pour emmener le lecteur de plus en plus loin dans l'approche de cet univers agricole et forestier si particulier.
