SINGAPORE COMPETITION ACT ANNOTATIONS / Lim Chong Kin & Dr Corinne Chew

Sweet and Maxwell Asia, Singapore 2018

1v.

9789811156748

$ 175.00 / HB

Print & Preview eBook

Singapore's political and economic system is based on the premise of well-functioning competitive markets. The country recognises the need to ensure that its markets operate in a fair and transparent manner. It has therefore enshrined strong laws to mandate that market participants do not engage in anti-competitive behaviour that can hurt consumers or other firms.

The Competition Act has three key prohibitions. These prohibitions are:

Agreements, decisions and practices which prevent, restrict or distort competition ("the section 34 prohibition")

Abuse of a dominant position ("the section 47 prohibition")

Mergers and acquisitions that substantially lessen competition ("the section 54 prohibition")

Amendments to the Competition Act made by the Public Sector Governance Act (Act 5 of 2018) and the Enterprise Singapore Board Act (Act 10 of 2018) came into effect on 1 April 2018. The Competition Amendment Bill (Bill 8 of 2018) has also been taken into consideration and encapsulated in the Annotations 740p.

$ 225.00 / null

Hong Kong Employment Law is a practical guide to the legal aspects impacting employers and employees in Hong Kong. Written by Pattie Walsh, Jeannette Tam and Stephanie Wong from Bird & Bird's International Employment Practice, this book also features contributions from other lawyers within Bird & Bird's Hong Kong office. This fifth edition continues to take a broad view of the employment law environment and aims to provide practical solutions for the many challenges that Hong Kong employment law poses.

Following the fourth edition in 2011, this latest edition brings readers up-to-date with the legislative changes and new case law. In addition to the legal commentary it also includes:

- Short "key practical takeaways" at the beginning of each chapter;
- New chapters on Change of Ownership and Employee Incentive Schemes;
- An analysis of the relevant impact of new legislation including the Contracts (Rights of Third Parties) Ordinance, the Competition Ordinance and the amendments to the Sex Discrimination Ordinance and Employment Ordinance; and
- A review of critical case law developments including:
  - the implied duty of trust and confidence and how it relates to taking decisions to terminate;
  - whether or not a discretionary bonus is payable; and
  - the extension of Hong Kong law to individuals subject to non-Hong Kong contracts.

Readers will find Hong Kong Employment Law easy to read and it will assist in-house lawyers, human resources professionals and those making business decisions in getting to grips with employment issues in Hong Kong.

Transport Law in Hong Kong, 2nd Edition / Ping-fat Sze; Kit-lan Choy; David Shiu-man Fong

Kluwer Law International, Hong Kong 2017

9789041194848

$ 135.00 / null

Derived from the renowned multi-volume International Encyclopaedia of Laws, this book provides a systematic approach to transport law as applied in Hong Kong. The book describes the main sources of transport law, jurisdiction and courts, state immunity, and the legal role of transport intermediaries, with detailed reference to maritime law, transport by road, transport by air, transport by rail, and inland navigation. A special chapter is devoted to multimodal transport.

Among the elements of transport law considered are the legal status of the vessel; its acquisition, ownership, and registration; vessel liens and mortgages; the position of master and crew; maritime salvage and assistance; marine pollution; collision; and carriage of passengers. Other topics discussed include liability and limitation of liability, charter parties, and transport under bill of lading. Case law, intergovernmental cooperation agreements, and interactions with environmental, tax, and competition law are also covered.

Its succinct yet scholarly nature, as well as the practical quality of the information it provides, make this book a valuable resource for lawyers handling transport contracts or cases affecting Hong Kong. It will also be welcomed by researchers and academics for its contribution to a field that continues to gain significance in the study of comparative law.

CONSTRUCTION ADJUDICATION IN MALAYSIA, 2ND EDITION / Lam Wai Loon & Ivan YF Loo

Sweet & Maxwell Asia, Malaysia 2018

9789672049821

$ 139.00 / HB

Construction Adjudication in Malaysia, Second Edition examines the legal principles which govern the application of the Construction Industry Payment and Adjudication Act 2012 (CIPA Act 2012). It is the first book to analyse all judicial decisions on construction adjudication made by the courts in Malaysia since the CIPA Act 2012 came into force in April 2014, including the recent Federal Court decision of View Esteem Sdn bhd v Bina Puri Holdings Berhad [2017] 8 AMR 167. Recent developments in other jurisdictions, namely, the United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand and Singapore, are also analysed and discussed.

Organised in 22 systematically-structured chapters, the book provides in-depth and practical guidance on all stages of the adjudication process, from the filing of a payment claim, to the commencement of adjudication proceedings, the management of the adjudication proceedings, up to the delivery of the adjudication decision. This is topped off with an easy-to-understand and comprehensive Practice Guide, a step-by-step framework to successfully navigate the entire adjudication process.

The present work is a new and revamped edition of the highly regarded first edition, which has been described as a 'seminal' book on adjudication in Malaysia, and will serve as a useful reference for judges, legal practitioners, adjudicators and students, as well as other stakeholders in the construction industry including employers, contractors, subcontractors, suppliers and consultants.

KEY FEATURES:

Thorough examination of legal principles governing application of CIPA Act 2012

In-depth and practical guidance on the entire adjudication process

Main provisions of CIPA Act 2012 clearly explained

Comprehensive discussion of Malaysian adjudication cases decided since CIPA Act 2012 came into force

Includes an easy-to-use and comprehensive Practice Guide - a step by step framework to navigate the entire adjudication process

This book is intended to facilitate a better understanding of the principles of criminal procedure and its applications in a court of law, by providing highlights of the leading judicial pronouncements of the Malaysia courts. It is with this thought in mind that the authors crafted the book in such a way as to not only list out the general principles of law relating to the major issues in each relevant area of criminal procedure, but also to reproduce the instructive portions of the judgments.

Each chapter begins with commentary on the areas concerned, followed by summary of general or specific principles of law as decided by courts of the highest hierarchy available. Leading decisions and an extract of its most relevant part of the judgements are then reproduced.

It is hoped that this book serves as an indispensable source for law students and criminal practitioners at all levels in the understanding and appreciation of the law relating to pre-trial procedures and jurisdiction of criminal courts in Malaysia.

Constitutional Law in Hong Kong, 2nd Edition / Anton Cooray

Kluwer Law International, Hong Kong 2017

304 pages

9789041187406

$ 175.00 / null

Derived from the renowned multi-volume International Encyclopaedia of Laws, this very useful analysis of constitutional law in Hong Kong provides essential information on the country's sources of constitutional law, its form of government, and its administrative structure. Lawyers who handle transnational matters will appreciate the clarifications of particular terminology and its application. Throughout the book, the treatment emphasizes the specific points at which constitutional law affects the interpretation of legal rules and procedure.

Thorough coverage by a local expert fully describes the political system, the historical background, the role of treaties, legislation, jurisprudence, and administrative regulations. The discussion of the form and structure of government outlines its legal status, the jurisdiction and workings of the central state organs, the subdivisions of the state, its decentralized authorities, and concepts of citizenship. Special issues include the legal position of aliens, foreign relations, taxing and spending powers, emergency laws, the power of the military, and the constitutional relationship between church and state. Details are presented in such a way that readers who are unfamiliar with specific terms and concepts in varying contexts will fully grasp their meaning and significance.

Its succinct yet scholarly nature, as well as the practical quality of the information it provides, make this book a valuable time-saving tool for both practising and academic jurists. Lawyers representing parties with interests in Hong Kong will welcome this guide, and academics and researchers will appreciate its value in the study of comparative constitutional law.

This engaging, readable law book is timely for many reasons. In this period of political turmoil, amidst allegations of bare-faced large-scale grabbing by greedy politicians and their confederates, the principles and mechanisms of our Constitution become more acutely important than ever. Over the last quarter-century or so, through our courts' judgments, delivered without fear or favour, the Constitution has begun to breathe life. Much challenge and much peril and much work still lie ahead. But some of the vibrancy and influence the Constitution has already attained may be traced to the voices and personalities of those behind the judgments: the judges who write them. This book looks at the character and thinking of some of the judges who have helped to start the process of making our Constitution real. The text reminds us that behind the structures of state and the mechanisms of power stand human beings, in all their frailty, but also in all their courage and determination to make our country better for the poorest in it. In other words, judges who take seriously the promise of constitutional governance and of social justice under law. – Justice Edwin Cameron, Constitutional Court of South Africa

Conveyancing Litigation in Hong Kong / Andrew Mak

LexisNexis, Hong Kong 2017

216p.

9789888389544

$ 250.00 / null

The ultimate resource for Hong Kong conveyancing litigation

This exciting new title is an essential addition to the library of anyone involved in, or interested in, conveyancing litigation. The only title dedicated specifically to Hong Kong conveyancing litigation, it covers some of the hottest topics of the moment, with expert case analysis, detailed commentary and practical procedural guidance. Andrew Mak, a much-praised expert in this area, deftly identifies and expounds on local areas of difficulty, ensuring this title will become an oft-cited work.

Property transactions are often complex, and legal problems are frequent. The large, and ever increasing, body of Hong Kong case law is testament to the number of difficulties encountered in even routine transactions.

Conveyancing Litigation in Hong Kong provides much-needed guidance and insight in this important area of the law. High-profile areas, as identified by significant recent cases, are covered in a practical and succinct manner, with a focus on areas of difficulty. A thorough understanding of these issues is essential for effective risk mitigation, making this work essential not only for those practicing litigation, but also those seeking to avoid it!

Particular emphasis is given to the practical aspects of conveyancing litigation procedure, and the unique difficulties encountered in Hong Kong. Highly topical issues are covered in detail, including chapters on Chinese Customary Law, Adverse Possession and Common Intention

Constructive Trusts, to name a few.

Unique in the Hong Kong market this important title is essential for litigators, conveyancers, investors, estate agents, and any other professionals interested in current legal problems in property law.

Eusoffe Abdoolcader was lauded by the British press as 'The Legal Lion of the Commonwealth'.

His expositions of the law created ripples in its day from London to Canberra and contributions to Malaysian jurisprudence developed by the Supreme Court is immensurable.

The son of renowned barrister Sir Dr. Husein Abdoolcader, Eusoffe's 24 years as one of the world's most fearsome advocates took him as far as the Privy Council in London. He was elevated to the Bench in 1974.

Hailed as works of literature, Eusoffe's judgments merge law, Latin and social commentary with legendary wit. His steely grit coupled with a photographic memory made lawyers and witnesses shiver before him.

Immortalised in this volume is the first-ever collection of Eusoffe's oral and written judgments plus his dissertation on the American doctrine of police power.

Presiding over landmark constitutional cases in Malaysia, his rulings set precedents for other landmark cases in the Commonwealth and are still frequently quoted in international law journals. His judgments include Malaysia's then longest-running criminal trial of the historic Muhammad Ali vs. Joe Bugner boxing match in Kuala Lumpur, Merdeka University, Asian Wall Street Journal's John P. Berthelsen and many other stimulating, thought-provoking cases.

Includes tributes, archival images, exclusive interview and previously unreleased findings from a 12-year research on the Abdoolcader family.

The Basic Law of the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region of the People's Republic of China and Related Constitutional Instruments (Bilingual) / The Implementation of the Hong Kong Basic Law Research Project, /
City University of Hong Kong Press, Hong Kong 2017

9789629373221
$ 16.50 / null

For teaching and research purposes and to promote the Basic Law, the Implementation of the Hong Kong Basic Law Research Project of City University of Hong Kong has decided to publish a pocket-sized edition of the Basic Law, which includes the Basic Law full text (a total of 9 chapters consisting of 160 articles, plus 3 annexes) and all directly related constitutional instruments, including the decisions and legal interpretations of the Basic Law by the National People's Congress and its standing committee. It is hoped that this lightweight edition can provide an easy and convenient reference for legal professionals, civil servants and the public alike.

The pocket-sized edition of the Basic Law has the following features:
Bilingual Reference

As the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region employs a bilingual legal system where all legislation, including the Basic Law, are enacted in both Chinese and English, this pocket-sized edition provides a parallel, bilingual display which allows readers easy cross-referencing without having to turn pages.

Classification by Category

In previous editions of the Basic Law and constitution-related documents, most instruments have been arranged solely in chronological order. In addition to the full text of the Basic Law, this new edition includes 20 important constitutional decisions and legal interpretations of the Basic Law, which are first divided into 3 categories: Decisions (11 instruments), Decisions regarding Annex III (3 instruments) and Legal Interpretations (6 instruments). Each category is further arranged chronologically, allowing readers to easily search for specific content.

Clear Cross References

In this edition, whenever an article refers to other articles, page numbers to the relevant articles are provided, allowing readers easy access to further information. In addition, editorial notes are clearly indicated by symbols such as "*", and footnotes can be found at the bottom of the pages.

Easy to Carry

This lightweight and handy edition is especially suitable for tertiary education scholars and students, legal professionals and civil servants for quick and easy referencing.

A Practical Guide to E-Discovery in Asia / Bryan Tan, Michael Lew, Benjamin Ang
LexisNexis, Singapore 2017

9789814770514
$ 175.00 / HB

According to Gartner's 2014 Magic Quadrant for E-discovery Software, the global E-discovery market will jump from $1.7 billion in 2013 to $2.9 billion by 2017. In addition, most of this growth will take place in international markets outside the traditional US market. There is still much to be learnt from the US experiences in E-discovery, both in techniques and best practices. As Asia's rapid digitisation gathers pace, the volume of evidence and the familiarity of the legal system with technology will demand that E-discovery be implemented to manage this process to aid the administration of justice.

E-Discovery, already well advanced in the US, is expected to develop quickly in this part of the world. Today, everything is stored electronically. Hard copies are becoming a thing of the past, with the continued advancement of technology, the courts find themselves confronted with evidence that is embedded in storage and memory of information technology equipment etc. Issues faced by litigants who wish to harvest electronically stored information in Asia face a host of challenges, such as diverse data protection laws, a myriad of potential jurisdictional assertions and a series of blocking statues that prohibit cross-border data transfer.

Butterworths Hong Kong Company Law (Winding-Up and Miscellaneous Provisions) Handbook, 3rd Edition / ELG Tyler; Stefan HC Lo
LexisNexis, Hong Kong 2017
1038p.
9789888389339
$ 175.00 / null

The Butterworths Hong Kong Company Law (Winding Up and Miscellaneous Provisions) Handbook details the remaining Parts from the 'old Companies Ordinance' (Cap 32) that have not been repealed, and thus not included in the New Companies Ordinance. Provisions relating to prospectus, companies winding up rules, insolvency of companies, disqualification of directors, receivership, restrictions on sale of shares and provisions relating to the Societies Ordinance are still in force under the now retitled Companies (Winding Up and Miscellaneous Provisions) Ordinance (Cap 32).

This Handbook reproduces the text of the Ordinance as currently in force, together with details on all amendments and repeals with section by section annotations, encompassing significant judicial decisions and rules of court, as well as history notes, definitions of words and phrases, discussions on practical aspects and contentious issues in reference to each section and other authoritative materials including cross jurisdictional references.

Since the last edition of this book, Cap 32 has been amended to incorporate all changes made by the Companies (Winding Up and Miscellaneous Provisions) (Amendment) Ordinance 2016, which commenced operation on 13 February 2017. The contents of this Handbook were annotated and reviewed by ELG Tyler and Stefan HC Lo, both of whom were part of the Companies Ordinance rewrite team. ELG Tyler has also written an extensive introduction to the Ordinance, highlighting the significant provisions of Cap 32.

This series has been cited with authority in over one hundred court cases in the Hong Kong Court of First Instance, Court of Appeal and Court of Final Appeal. This Handbook will be an invaluable source of information for practitioners, legal advisers, company secretaries, students and anyone interested in the laws governing companies in Hong Kong.

This new edition reproduces the text of the Companies (Winding Up and Miscellaneous Provisions) (Amendment) Ordinance 2016, which commenced operation on 13 February 2017 as well as subsidiary legislation, as currently in force. It provides details on amendments and repeals, via key cases, and section-by-section annotations to the Ordinance. All annotations are fully cross referenced with comprehensive tables of cases and legislation.

The annotations cover:

- Enactment history
- UK references
- Interpretation of key terms
- Relevant case law

This series has been cited with authority in over one hundred court cases in the Hong Kong Court of First Instance, Court of Appeal and Court of Final Appeal.

New changes to the last edition:

- Amendments to Cap 32 to increase protection of creditors, streamline the winding up process, and strengthen regulation under the winding-up regime.
- Changes made to increase protection of creditors including introduction of additional safeguards to reduce the risk of abuse in a director-initiated creditors' voluntary winding up commenced under the new s 228A; restricting the powers of directors in a voluntary winding up prior to the appointment of a liquidator under s 250A; and setting out the circumstances in which there is an unfair preference under s 266.
- Changes made to allow liquidators to exercise the power to appoint a solicitor to assist the liquidator's duties under ss 199, 199A and 199B; streamlining and rationalising the proceedings by the Committee of Inspection by allowing remote attendance at meetings under ss 206, 207, 205A-207A of the amended CWUMPO; empowering the Committee of Inspection to approve payments of bill of costs of an agent of the liquidator without taxation and to remove the requirement for taxation under rr 176 and 179 of the CWUR.
- Changes made to strengthen regulations including extending the liability to provisional liquidators that they would not be absolved from their misfeasance or breach of duty and an earlier incorrect amendment is remedied by the inclusion of both 'breach of trust' under s 276; and setting out the powers and duties of provisional liquidators clearly under s 228B.

Annotated Leading Patent Cases in Major Asian Jurisdictions / Kung-Chung LIU
City University of Hong Kong Press, Hong Kong 2017

468 pages

9789629373078

$ 60.00 / null

The first of its kind, this book presents a comprehensive collection of leading patent cases from nine major Asian jurisdictions which are analyzed by eminent scholars and legal practitioners from Asia, Germany, and the United States. It contains thirty case reports covering six topics which best reflect the current trends in Asia in patent law, namely specialized IP court (or division), compulsory licensing, the intersection between patent law and competition law, injunction, damages, and choice of jurisdiction and law in cross-border patent litigation. Each case report explores a landmark case by deconstructing the legal background and the legal reasoning of the decisions, and then discussing the commercial and/or industrial ramifications.

The present volume is a useful guide for practitioners, lawyers, and judges alike, a primer for students and businessmen entering the IP world, and a reminder for policymakers, both within Asia and further afield.

Hong Kong IPO: A Practical Guide, 2nd Edition / RSM Hong Kong
Bloomsbury Books, Hong Kong 2016
9789881343017
$ 265.00 / null

Hong Kong IPO – A Practical Guide (2nd Edition) provides practical guidance for companies which are considering to list on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange. The book starts by giving readers a general overview of the global IPO environment and the characteristics of the Hong Kong Stock Exchange, and then discusses key considerations of an IPO in the areas of accounting, tax and internal control. The book is written in a plain and straight forward manner for easy understanding and covers the following areas:

- The listing requirements on the Main Board and the Growth Enterprise Market;
- The listing process and documentation required for listing on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange;
- Common accounting and internal control issues encountered in the listing process;
- Tax considerations;
- Corporate governance requirements; and
- Continuing obligations of listed issuers.

In this 2nd Edition we extended our contents to cover the requirements and development of New Sponsor Regulatory Regime for IPO in Hong Kong.

This book is a valuable resource for corporate executives, professional practitioners and academics as it provides technical guidance on the application of the Listing Rules and offers recommendations to address issues encountered in the listing process. This book includes illustrative examples, diagrams, tables and flowcharts and dissects the IPO roadmap into layers to provide an in-depth analysis and better understanding of the issues that need to be considered in listing a company on the Hong Kong Stock Exchange.

The book is a must have IPO reference book. It helps readers in understanding and resolving the variety of issues which a company may encounter in its IPO journey

Foreign Investment in China / Mark Schaub

CCH Hong Kong, Hong Kong 2016

1009p.

9789881395535

$ 125.00 / HB

Writing by Mark Schaub, partner from King & Wood Mallesons, who has more than 20 years of practical experience in China, this book provides a complete insight of foreign direct investments into China, covering all critical legal issues relating to both domestic and foreign business vehicles including, but not limit to, strategic issues to consider before entering the China market, options for establishing a business in China, mergers and acquisitions, common implementation issues and solutions, and exit strategies.

This is a "how to" guide for legal practitioners, business consultants, company secretaries and other professionals that are involved in China's investment regime. It deliberates on foreign investment in different industries and cities in China, illustrates the complexities and challenges associated with national and regional laws and policies, and provides compelling glimpses into the reality of implementing a successful investment project in this fast-developing market.

The greatest strength of this book is the ability to address complex issues in an easily understandable way and with direct relevance to the everyday experience of corporate legal consultants and business decision-makers. To find answers to the toughest challenges in China's business and legal enjoyment, real-life cases from business operation have been abundantly cited across the chapters and closely examined.

This book helps compliance persons ease their day to day workflow with numerous templates and forms, as well as checklists, graphic charts and diagrams.

The original practitioner's reference work on civil procedure in Hong Kong.

Hong Kong Civil Court Practice - Desk Edition 2018 is a practitioner's essential reference work, containing the Rules of the High Court with extensive commentary by a team of experts. It contains the Competition Tribunal Rules and the latest decisions of the Hong Kong courts are reflected in the updated and revised commentary.

Hong Kong Civil Court Practice is the original practitioner's reference work on civil procedure in Hong Kong, having first been published in 1994. This title contains the full text of the Rules of the High Court (Cap 4A) with extensive commentary which reflects Hong Kong's experience with the civil justice reforms which were implemented in April 2009, as well as the Competition Tribunal Rules. Commentary includes not only Hong Kong cases and materials but also those of relevance from the UK and other common law jurisdictions around the world. Such authorities have been carefully selected for relevance to Hong Kong, and are included where they might provide guidance unavailable in local decisions. Carefully chosen extracts from the UK's Civil Court Practice have been included reflecting the addition years of experience of the courts there.

Written by a team of experts, Hong Kong Civil Court Practice – Desk Edition 2018 is a practitioner's essential reference work intended for use by all members of the legal community.

Planning Law in Hong Kong / John Litton QC; Kate Olley
LexisNexis, Hong Kong 2018

9789888476435

$ 300.00 / null

This new title brings together in a single book the operation of the Town Planning Ordinance and the legal process for challenging planning decisions. In two parts, the first section of the book sets out and explains the plan making and development control functions that the Town Planning Ordinance has in Hong Kong with reference to the evolving case law. The second part examines and discusses how decisions can be challenged through the High Court, including the grounds on which such decisions may be challenged, and draws extensively on Hong Kong and English case law.

LexisNexis, Hong Kong 2018

520p.

9789888476428

$ 250.00 / null

This title deals with credit and securities matters relating to consumers and corporate parties. The Hong Kong Credit and Security Manual (formerly known as Commercial Law in Hong Kong) has been re-structured as a Manual. This is to facilitate those drafting commercial documents to provide all background information in a systematic order. The draftsman will be able to list and review the information required for the particular document being drafted.

The structure of this book is in three parts. The first part contains background information relating to commercial law generally. The second part contains a commentary on the various forms of real as well as quasi-securities. Part three contains matters to assist in drafting commercial documents.

$ 150.00 / null

The Belt and Road (B&R) initiative was announced by China's President Xi Jinping in 2013 and has been a topic of broad discussion at all levels since then. Despite the fact that its tremendous significance for local, regional and global developments is widely acknowledged the precise scope, aims and even the participating countries of the initiative are not yet clearly defined.

This book discusses related aspects comprehensively from the legal point of view. It paints a fascinating picture of the multi-faceted legal character of the B&R initiative and establishes a framework for future research and a basis for policy initiatives, legislative projects as well as practical legal services on the ground.

The 24 Chapters of the book are authored by leading experts in their respective fields. They address a great variety of B&R topics with a focus on China and its rapidly increasing outward activities

The book provides a comprehensive theoretical analysis as well as up-to-date practical guidance on legal questions arising out of the B&R initiative. It is a must-have not only for China experts, but for everybody involved in globalization and cross-border work be it in academia, politics, media, business or the legal profession.

Guarantees and Performance Bonds, Third Edition / by Poh Chu Chai (Author)
LexisNexis, Singapore 2017
Ixxiii, 799 pages; 25 cm.
9789814770811
$ 220.00 / HB

An easy to understand edition on the law governing guarantees and performance bonds.

This book is an authoritative and well-researched text based on actual legal principles. Not only does it cover the law relating to guarantees and performance bonds as applied in Singapore and Malaysia, it also takes into account decisions made in Singapore, Malaysia and the United Kingdom as well as the relevant Singapore and Malaysian statutory provisions. Singapore and Malaysia have developed their own pool of judicial decisions to cater for local requirements and conditions and these developments are fully explored in the book. The third edition includes case law and legislation updates to the previous edition published in 2012. Written in a manner that makes it easy for a non-lawyer to understand, the author hopes to make the law governing guarantees and performance bonds much more accessible to all who need to access the law.

9789814770941

$ 165.00 / HB

The third edition of a detailed exploration into various aspects of minority shareholders' rights and remedies in Singapore.

This book, now in its third edition, examines various aspects of minority shareholders' rights and remedies in Singapore, including personal actions, common law derivative actions, oppression actions under section 216 of the Companies Act, statutory derivative actions under section 216A, and the just and equitable ground of winding up under section 254(1)(i). This title is for the student or practitioner who would like to delve further into this particular area of company law.

This detailed exploration of minority shareholders' rights and remedies in Singapore is the only book of its kind in the market. The first two editions (2000, 2007) have been very much sought after, and the third edition (2017) aims to update the text further with the many developments in this area over the last decade.

China and the International Criminal Court / Dan Zhu

Springer , Singapore 2018

xii, 298p.

ISSN: 2524-3586 ; 9789811073731

$ 165.00 / HB

This book focuses on the evolving relationship between China and the International Criminal Court (ICC). It examines the substantive issues that have restricted China's engagement with the ICC to date, and provides a comprehensive assessment of whether these Chinese concerns still constitute a significant impediment to China's accession to the ICC in the years to come. The book places the China-ICC relationship within the wider context of China's interactions with international judicial bodies, and uses the ICC as an example to reflect China's engagement with international institutions and global governance in general. It seeks to offer a thought-provoking resource to international law and international relations scholars, legal practitioners, government legal advisers, and policy-makers about the nature, scope, and consequences of the relationship between China and the ICC, as well as its impact on both global governance and order. This book is the first of its kind to explore China's engagement with the ICC primarily from a legal perspective

Company Law, 3rd Edition / by Pearlie Koh (Author)

LexisNexis, Singapore 2017

1v.

$ 150.00 / HB

The book aims to present the complex subject of company law in a clear and straightforward manner. It is readable, and yet provides sufficient detail to complex issues, making it a good first choice not only for intending students of company law but also for persons who work with or in companies.

The company is subject to a complex amalgam of common law rules and legislative regulation. This book attempts to unpack these rules. Concepts that define and characterise a company are explained, as are those legal principles that mediate the different rights and obligations of the various factions with interests in the company. This third edition has been significantly rewritten to expand the coverage of decided cases, and of difficult questions of corporate governance and theory, and also to take account of the changes introduced by the Companies (Amendment) Act 2014.

Understanding Criminal Law, 2nd Edition / by S Chandra Mohan (Author)

LexisNexis, Singapore 2017

xxix, 1188 pages : illustrations ; 25 cm

9789814770644

$ 140.00 / HB

Understanding Criminal Law has been written to give the reader a clear explanation of the fundamental principles of criminal law and the criminal justice system.

Through the use of legislation, selected cases and materials enhanced with commentary from the author himself, Understanding Criminal Law has been written to give the reader a clear explanation of the fundamental principles of criminal law and the criminal justice system. The liberal use of symbols, diagrams and charts is designed to give a clearer understanding of this particular area of law, and the book, through these same tools, aims to stimulate reflection and discussion on the various issues surrounding this fascinating subject. S Chandra Mohan has drawn on his vast experience as a legal officer, judge and teacher of the law to produce this fascinating work. For years he has taught students to appreciate the principles of criminal law and procedure by telling them that the law in this intriguing area is more than what is in the law books – it is about knowing first what is around them that make for a better understanding of what the criminal justice system really is. Many legal scholars, lawyers and judges on both sides of the causeway owe their enduring interest in criminal law and procedure to his unique methods of dispensing knowledge of the law and procedure, an enlightening experience which users of this book will no doubt enjoy partaking in.

Probate and Administration Law in Singapore and Malaysia, Fourth Edition / by Dr G. Raman (Author)

LexisNexis, Singapore 2018

xlvi, 287 pages; 25 cm

9789814798037

$ 185.00 / HB

An update of the law on wills, probate practice, succession and estate duty in concise and clear style of writing. The fourth edition of Probate and Administration Law in Singapore and Malaysia brings to the lawyer and informed layperson, an update of the law on wills, probate practice, succession and estate duty, since the publication of the previous edition in 2012. The readers of the author's previous editions would be pleased at the retention of his concise and clear style of writing. This book is not only relevant to the legal practitioner, but also to financial planners, insurers and accountants. Some matters that will be covered in the new edition: 1. The enactment of the Family Justice Act and the passing of the Family Justice Rules which have brought about a major change in probate practice; 2. The recent decisions made under the Mental Capacity Act; 3. A drastic view taken by the Court of Appeal on inadequate service provided by solicitors drafting Wills and Deeds of Family Arrangement; 4. An explanation on the meaning and effect of Section 7 rule 3 of the Intestate Succession Act. There is some miscomprehension of the meaning of this rule. An illustration in the next edition would be of some help. 5. Changes to the Malaysian content to deal with changes and legal decisions in the last 4 years.

A masterpiece of studying the interaction between the Hong Kong Law and gender/sexual politics.

This book attempts to produce multiple perspectives, enlightened by postmodernism, psychoanalysis and postcolonialism, in understanding and cross-examining the power dynamics constituted and territorialized by laws controlling sex work, pornography, artificial reproduction and emotional relationships, and formulate suggestions for corresponding legal amendments. The book also discusses how the transplantation of theories and related laws can be conducted in order to develop an indigenous notion of justice in Hong Kong.

One primary purpose of studying the connection between the legal machine and gender / sexual politics has been to sensitize (mainstream) society towards injustice and inequality faced by the powerless and the suppressed. Underlying this purpose is the belief that different strategies can be constructed and facilitated under particular cultural and political discourses. This book attempts to produce multiple perspectives, enlightened by postmodernism, psychoanalysis and postcolonialism, in understanding and cross-examining the power dynamics constituted and territorialized by laws controlling sex work, pornography, artificial reproduction and emotional relationships, and formulate suggestions for corresponding legal amendments. The book also discusses how the transplantation of theories and related laws can be conducted in order to develop an indigenous notion of justice in Hong Kong.

Print & Preview eBook

Your Practical Handbook to Corporate Law & Governance in Singapore

The first and only source of practical procedures to corporate law, covering up to and including the most recent changes in October 2017.

Authored by Lan Luh Luh, this title will update through 2018 reflecting subsequent changes to company law procedures.

A high standard of corporate governance is essential to continue building Singapore's reputation as a regional and global hub for businesses. Over the last decade, Singapore companies made much progress in their corporate governance practices. However, businesses now operate in an increasingly complex environment, with disruptive changes challenging traditional business models. It is of paramount importance for Singapore companies to steadily uplift and improve their own corporate governance practices, not only in letter but also in spirit, in order to stay ahead in this business environment. In the local regulatory landscape, the Singapore Code of Corporate Governance has undergone two major revisions in recent years, in 2005 and 2012. The Companies (Amendment) Act of 2014 and 2017 introduced several new provisions, while the SGX listing rule now requires Singapore-listed companies to publish sustainability reports on a comply-or-explain basis.

The book provides a balance between analytical discussion of the principles and the practical application of the law and includes numerous illustrations and practice-related situations for this purpose.

The book provides a balance between analytical discussion of the principles and the practical application of the law and includes numerous illustrations and practice-related situations for this purpose. It offers students an intensely detailed and integrated portrait of the litigation process (including procedure and advocacy) and is therefore a vital source of reference for their studies. The book recognises that this subject is particularly difficult primarily because of the difficulties inherent in the Evidence Act (a significant part of which remains in the state it was enacted in 1893), and the tension between this statute and the constantly developing common law. No effort is spared in tackling these problems and examining all applicable sources of law. This highly successful publication has already sold thousands of copies in the course of the first five editions. Highly acclaimed in and out of Singapore since it was first published 25 years ago, this work covers all developments since the fifth edition was published in 2015 with legislative and case law updates, specifically: 1. Amendments since the last edition covering many critical case law developments in multiple areas. 2. New chapter on ethical conduct in the course of litigation (see chapter 24). 3. Significant improvements to the majority chapters through comprehensive and intensive analysis of principles and laws. 4. Guidance throughout the book on approaches to difficult evidential points. 5. Highlighting critical areas for consideration of judges, practitioners and students.

Apology Ordinance (Cap.631): Commentary And Annotations /
Sweet and Maxwell, Hong Kong 2018

9789626619582

$ 100.00 / HB

The thorough commentary, informed by comparative law ... makes the book an asset not only for readers involved in the application of the Ordinance in Hong Kong, but also for those involved in the interpretation and application of similar provisions in other parts of the world.

From the Foreword by the Honourable Mr Justice French AC, NPJ, Former Chief Justice of the High Court of Australia

The Apology Ordinance (Cap.631) came into effect on 1 December 2017. Along with the Arbitration Ordinance (Cap.609) and Mediation Ordinance (Cap.620), the Apology Ordinance is the third in a trilogy of Hong Kong legislation that promotes non-litigious settlement of civil disputes. The Ordinance aims to promote and encourage the making of apologies with a view to preventing the escalation of disputes and facilitating their amicable resolution. This is the first stand-alone legislation on apology in Asia. Of particular significance, the Hong Kong legislation is the first in the world to define "apology" to include statements of fact (see s.8(2) of the Ordinance).

Apology Ordinance (Cap.631): Commentary and Annotations is a comprehensive commentary and annotation to the 13 sections and Schedule of the Ordinance. It provides a detailed analysis of the words and context of the legislation and of cases decided prior to the enactment of the legislation, as well as comparative content from common law jurisdictions with related legislation such as Australia, Canada and USA. Annotations are enhanced by the inclusion of useful Appendices one of which sets out the history of apology legislation around the world, and another which sets out the development of the Apology Ordinance in Hong Kong. Lawyers and judges can draw on this text in their interpretation of the Ordinance. An extremely useful resource for other readers including practitioners involved in negotiations or mediation to resolve civil disputes which might lead to litigation. Robyn Carroll is Professor of Law at the University of Western Australia and contributed to the development of apology legislation in Australia and Hong Kong James Chiu is the Founder and Director of JC Professional Dispute Resolution Centre and was a member of the Working Group on Apology Legislation in Hong Kong

Prue Vines is Professor of Law at the University of New South Wales and contributed to the development of apology legislation in Australia, Scotland and Hong Kong

The Hong Kong Anti-Discrimination Ordinances: Commentary & Annotations
(Collected Volume) Second Edition /

Sweet and Maxwell, Hong Kong 2018

9789626619599

$ 450.00 / HB

Restructured and updated to reflect timely issues regarding legislation against discrimination, including legal rights and recognition of same-sex couples and strengthening the laws against harassment in work places, no matter the gender or sexual orientation.

The Hong Kong Anti-Discrimination Ordinances examined here include:

- Cap 480: Sex Discrimination Ordinance (SDO)
- Cap 487: Disability Discrimination Ordinance (DDO)
- Cap 527: Family Status Discrimination Ordinance (FSDO)
- Cap 602: Race Discrimination Ordinance (RDO)

THE MOST UP-TO-DATE AND AUTHORITATIVE REFERENCE GUIDE ANALYSING AND EXPLAINING HONG KONG'S ANTI-DISCRIMINATION LAWS

This new edition has been completely re-structured and revised to offer a concise, detailed section-by-section analysis of all the provisions of Hong Kong's four Anti-Discrimination Ordinances. The relevant provisions of each Ordinance have been discussed, enhanced with:

(i) legislative amendments; (ii) recent cases, including analysis of the issues surrounding same sex marriages and transgender identity; (iii) comparative notes linking each Ordinance; and (iv) commentary on proposed law reforms.

Significant issues are reviewed and examined, including: (i) combining the four existing antidiscrimination laws into a single modernised Discrimination Ordinance; (ii) recognition and protection for persons in de facto relationships (as opposed to a heterosexual marriage); (iii) laws protecting new immigrants (i.e. Mainlanders) from discrimination; (iv) introducing new protections as the current anti-discrimination regime overlooks several grounds of discrimination; and (v) equal protection to both men and women (as well as 'gender x' representing transgender and intersex people) from sexual harassment in common workplaces.

Authored by a team of experienced practitioners and academics

• Annotated by Hectar Pun, Barrister-at-Law, Denis Chang's Chambers; Ann Lui, Barrister-at-Law, Parkside Chambers, and Michael Ramsden, Professor of Law, Chinese University of Hong Kong.

• Updated by Brendan Clift, Professor of Law, University of Hong Kong.

Presented in a clear, concise format with analysis that goes beyond the current state of legal implications under the ordinances

• Each section and subsection of the Ordinance is highlighted in the headings for easy navigation

• The concise format provides exactly what is necessary to better understand the Ordinance

• Provides analysis of anticipated legal issues that are yet to arise or which might arise as a result of the new amendments

• Annotated by Hectar Pun, Barrister-at-Law, Denis Chang's Chambers; Ann Lui, Barrister-at-Law, Parkside Chambers, and Michael Ramsden, Professor of Law, Chinese University of Hong Kong.

Civil Procedure In Hong Kong: A Guide To The Main Principles, Fourth Edition / Dave Lau

Sweet and Maxwell, Hong Kong 2017

9789626619711

$ 225.00 / HB

Civil Procedure in Hong Kong: A Guide to the Main Principles, Fourth Edition, a popular text with practitioners, has developed a reputation as being a user-friendly, simply written guide to the main principles of civil procedure.

The new edition covers important changes in relevant areas, including the recent abolition of the "as of right" route of appeal to the CFA. A few years have passed since the coming into effect of the Civil Justice Reform (CJR). The text elaborates on various points where it would be helpful for practitioners to have more of an explanation and/or a flavour of the Court's general approach now.

The Hong Kong Anti-Money Laundering Ordinances - Commentary And Annotations, (Collected Volume), Second Edition / Hans Mahncke (et.al)

Sweet and Maxwell, Hong Kong 2017

1v.

9789626619704

$ 350.00 / HB

A clear and concise collected volume of all the annotated ordinances for practitioners, banking and corporate professionals, financiers and investors in Hong Kong.

Money-laundering is prevalent and has been an increasing concern in Hong Kong, with rates far exceeding the global average. The Hong Kong Anti-Money Laundering Ordinances: Commentary and Annotations encompasses the latest materials on the three major Anti-Money Laundering Ordinances: Drug Trafficking (Recovery of Proceeds) Ordinance (Cap 405); Organized and Serious Crimes Ordinance (Cap 455); and Anti-Money Laundering and Counter-Terrorist Financing (Financial Institutions) Ordinance (Cap 615).

The 2nd Edition is fully updated: reviewing and analyzing the recent updates and amendments that affect the Ordinance with cross-referencing to corresponding laws:

1. Applications and references to the corresponding sections to the: Companies Ordinance (Cap.622); Securities and Futures Ordinances (Cap.571); Banking Ordinance (Cap.155); Inland Revenue Ordinance (Cap.112); as well as international anti-money laundering standards;

2. Firms/Financial Institutions duty to comply with the AMLO – Revised rules and regulations to help detect and report suspicious activity including the predicate offenses to money laundering and terrorist financing, such as securities fraud and market manipulation;

3. Updated requirements of Firms/Financial Institutions (i.e. banks) to take preventative or mitigating measures commensurate with the nature and scope of the money laundering or terrorist- financing risks by identifying high-risk clients;

4. Revised customer due diligence measures (CDD) which must be undertaken and complied with prior to establishing any business relationship or conducting with, or conducting occasional transactions for customers;

5. New amendment of the AMLO to prescribe the statutory CDD and record-keeping requirements applicable to solicitors, accountants, real estate agents and trust and company service providers (“Designated Professions”) when they engage in specified transactions;

6. New amendments that require Firms/Financial Institutions to establish and maintain adequate and appropriate risk-based controls to address trade-based money laundering risks as well as develop written policies and procedures to assess and mitigate money laundering risks arising from trade-related activities;

7. Proposed amendments to the Companies Ordinance (Cap.622) to require companies incorporated in Hong Kong to maintain beneficial ownership information.

Financial Institutions (Resolution) Ordinance (Cap.628): Commentary & Annotations, 1st Edition / Antonio M. Da Roza
Sweet and Maxwell, Hong Kong 2017

9789626619391

$ 220.00 / HB

The law comes into full effect on 8 July 2017.

First text to review and analyze this new Financial Institutions (Resolution) Ordinance (Cap.628) enacted because of the recent 2015 and 2016 amendments to the Securities and Futures Ordinance (Cap.571) allowing the Securities and Futures Commission as well as other financial authorities for the resolution of systemically important financial institutions in the banking, insurance, and securities and futures sectors, as well as certain financial market infrastructures, when a crisis occurs leading to the failure of that monetary fund in an orderly manner without taxpayer exposure to loss from solvency support, while also maintaining the continuity of their vital economic functions.

All 244 Sections and 8 Schedules of the Financial Institutions (Resolution) Ordinance (Cap.628) are reviewed and analyzed. This new text examines the new powers given to the Hong Kong Money Authority ("HKMA"), Insurance Authority ("IA"), and the Securities and Futures Commission ("SFC") and how might they be applied to help and resolve the issues that arise when a financial institution fails, including the powers to:

(i) impose a write off or conversion of capital instruments issued by authorized financial institutions;

(ii) to resolve a holding company or group company of a within scope entity; and

(iii) to give effect to a resolution action taken by an overseas counterpart.

This is an essential text to all legal practitioners and regulators working in the commercial, financial, and companies sector, as well as all those working in the banking/finance industry, including accountants, money managers, investment brokers, etc.

ADDITIONAL USEFUL TOOLS PROVIDED IN THE TEXT:

1. I-Annex 3: Resolvability Assessments

2. I-Annex 4: Essential Elements of Recovery and Resolution Plans

3. Financial Institutions (Resolution) (Protected Arrangements) Regulation

4. Principles on Loss-absorbing and Recapitalisation Capacity of G-SIBs in Resolution – Total Loss-absorbing Capacity (TLAC) Term Sheet

5. Hong Kong Monetary Authority: Resolution Planning – Core Information Requirements

CROC OF FINAL APPEAL / Mr. Justice Kemal Bokhary

Sweet and Maxwell, Hong Kong 2017

9789626619681

$ 50.00 / null

Following the success of The Law is a Crocodile and Crocodile at Law, Sweet & Maxwell is pleased to present Croc of Final Appeal from Mr. Justice Kemal Bokhary.

This is the third in a trilogy of cartoon law books by Mr Justice Kemal Bokhary. Like its predecessors, it reaches out to the general public as well as lawyers. Its main theme is the law's role in achieving the ideals to which humankind aspires. To convey his thoughts, the author has written 149 entries and drawn 152 cartoons. The link between natural law and human rights is explored. Democracy, justice and the rule of law are among the topics addressed. So are civil disobedience, constitutional methods, the separation of powers and much more besides. Humour is often employed, but always to make points meant to be taken seriously.

Arbitration In Hong Kong - A Practical Guide, Fourth Edition / Geoffrey Ma
General (ed)

Sweet and Maxwell, Hong Kong 2017

9789626619445

$ 540.00 / HB

- Author of the Hong Kong chapter of Enforcement of Foreign Judgment, and ADR in Business (chapter on the Appeal of International Law Firms)

- He has more than 15 years' experience practicing litigation and dispute resolution practice in Hong Kong and Asia

Clarity on the impact of the Arbitration (Amendment) Bill 2016, and the Arbitration and Mediation Legislation (Third Party Funding) (Amendment) Bill 2016, passed in June 2017, in this practical guide endorsed by Geoffrey Ma GBM QC SC, the Chief Justice of the Hong Kong Court of Final Appeal.

This Fourth Edition of Arbitration in Hong Kong – A Practical Guide examines all the forthcoming amendments to the Arbitration Ordinance, especially the two sets of amendments just passed this June 2017, clarifying:

- Third-party funding of arbitration, mediation and related proceedings now permitted under the arbitration laws and related alternative dispute resolutions; and

- Disputes over intellectual property rights (IPRs) can now be resolved through confidential arbitration, now no longer contrary to the public policy of Hong Kong to enforce arbitral awards involving IPRs.

This Fourth Edition provides an in-depth analysis and commentary on the amendments to the Arbitration Ordinance, which are all aimed at: (i) allowing intellectual property disputes to be arbitrated in Hong Kong; (ii) making Hong Kong more appealing than other jurisdictions for conducting arbitration in a diverse field of legal disputes; and (iii) demonstrating to the international community that Hong Kong is committed to developing itself as an international centre for alternative dispute resolution involving all matters.

To further this goal, the key amendments to the law as highlighted in this text includes:

- Definition and application of arbitration is extended to include not only arbitrations to which the Ordinance itself applies, but also proceedings before the court, an emergency arbitrator, or mediator;

- Third party funding of arbitration now allowed but excludes the direct or indirect provision of arbitration funding by lawyers or those providing legal services, in order to avoid any conflict of interest as well as being a requirement to disclose all material facts of the arrangement to all interested parties;

- Communication of confidential information to an existing or potential third-party funder is allowed but is subject to confidentiality requirements;

- Newly added Part 10A to the Arbitration Ordinance now applies where the place of arbitration is outside Hong Kong or where there is no place of arbitration, to the extent that costs and expenses are provided in Hong Kong in relation to the arbitration; and

- Power to issue a code of practice ("Code") by the authorised body setting out standards and practices to be observed with respect to, inter alia, funding agreements, internal procedures of third party funders (such as sufficient minimum capital requirements) and monitoring measures.

China Through American Eyes: Early Depictions Of The Chinese People And Culture In The Us Print Media / Zhang Wenxian

World Scientific Publishing Co. Pte. Ltd.,Singapore 2018

552 pp.

9789813202252

$ 138.00 / HB

Cultural understanding between the United States and China has been a long and complex process. The period from the mid-nineteenth century to the early twentieth century is not only a critical era in modern Chinese history, but also the peak time of illustrated news reporting in the United States. Besides images from newspapers and journals, this collection also contains pictures about China and the Chinese published in books, brochures, commercial advertisements, campaign posters, postcards, etc. Together, they have documented colourful portrayals of the Chinese and their culture by the U.S. print media and their evolution from ethnic curiosity, stereotyping, and racial prejudice to social awareness, reluctant understanding, and eventual acceptance. Since these publications represent different positions in American politics, they can help contemporary readers develop a more comprehensive understanding of major events in modern American and Chinese histories, such as the cause and effect of the Chinese Exclusion Act and the power struggles behind the development of the Open Door Policy at the turn of the twentieth century. This collection of images has essentially formed a rich visual resource that is both diverse and intriguing; and as primary source documents, they carry significant historical and cultural values that could stimulate further academic research.
